ReFashion Multiplier Events & Project Outcomes

Welcome!

Reflecting on the past year, our sustainable fashion project has made significant strides, thanks to all participants and contributors. Together we've advanced education and promoted conscious consumer behavior through impactful events like the ReFashion Days. These gatherings united educators, NGOs, and fashion enthusiasts, inspiring the integration of sustainable fashion education into curricula. Our collaborative efforts have yielded tangible outcomes, such as the ReFashion Sustainable Consumer Guide. As we express gratitude for our achievements, we eagerly anticipate continued collaboration in our journey toward a more sustainable fashion industry.

The ReFashion Consumer Guide

Introducing our project's free to download Consumer Guide – a concise yet comprehensive tool for navigating the complexities of sustainable fashion. Download it from our website to access valuable insights and practical tips, empowering you to make informed choices aligned with ethical practices. Developed as part of the REFASHION project, funded by Erasmus+, this guide aims to cultivate a responsible fashion community, where style meets sustainability seamlessly. Join us in shaping a more conscious future for fashion.

Multiplier Events

Multiple events were organized across Romania, Greece, Slovenia and Italy, seamlessly blending online and in-person formats to engage and collaborate within our sustainable fashion community. Notably, the ReFashion Days in Timișoara, Romania, organized by CNPCD and CRIES, featured sessions on Education for Sustainability and practical workshops led by sustainable fashion designers. Another significant event occurred in Larissa, Greece, where Innovation Hive hosted a dynamic presentation on sustainable fashion. Additionally, Katty Fashion organized events in Iasi and online to share the ReFashion project results and emphasize its educational value. In Slovenia, MIITR hosted an event showcasing the ReFashion project's e-learning platform and consumer guide, promoting informed choices and environmental strategies. Furthermore, Effebe organized a multiplier event in Rome at IISS Leon Battista Alberti, engaging fashion students and professors in discussions and activities centered on the project's training course, platform, and consumer guide. Feedback from participants was overwhelmingly positive, indicating strong interest and appreciation for the project's contents and interactivity.
